1. OBJECTIVES

BW Epic Kosan (“BWEK” or “the Company” or “the Group”) is committed to its Vision, Mission and Values as well as high standards of corporate governance. This includes, among other things, a commitment to provide a workplace free of dishonest, illegal or discriminatory activities.

As part of our efforts in this area, the Company has the following existing procedures in place for seafarers and shore-based team members:

For seafarers, the Company's Fleet Regulations (which is a procedure manual of BWEK Management System) contain a section on conduct of ship staff and complaints procedures on-board. Seafarers should resolve matters according to the detailed complaints procedures set out in the Fleet Regulations. They can always contact any Managers in the Technical Department including the Head of Technical Department if the complaints are not resolved on board to their satisfaction, or report via Ethicspoint.

For shore-based team members including management and Directors, the Company's Policies listed online via SharePoint include a Code of Conduct, Grievance Policy and others (together with the “Staff Handbook”). The Staff Handbook sets out reporting channels and procedures for treatment of information. Team members are encouraged to communicate and resolve matters directly with their supervisors. This is the first step to the quick resolution of an issue. If the matter is not dealt with to the satisfaction of the team member, the second step is to discuss the matter with the Human Resources Department. At all times, team members are expected to act in good faith.

The Company recognises that there may be situations where team members consider it inappropriate or find it uncomfortable to report to their supervisors or the Human Resources Department or under the complaint's procedures aforesaid. This Whistleblowing policy is to cover such situations.

Team members are encouraged to raise serious and genuine concerns, in confidence and in good faith, on a 24/7 basis about (a) misconduct; (b) unethical behaviour; (c) malpractices; (d) illegal acts including bribery, fraud or forgery; (e) harassment; (f) victimisation; (g) environmental pollution including pollution at sea; (h) serious violations of work safety standards including violations of such standards at sea, (i) violence or sexual assault against employees; (j) other failure to comply with regulatory requirements or (k) actual or potential suppression, destruction or manipulation of information regarding the above matters, without fear of reprisal.

2. WHISTLEBLOWING

Whistleblowing is a situation where a team member reports through an established and confidential channel, concerns about suspected misconduct, unethical behaviour, malpractices, illegal acts, harassment, victimisation or other failure to comply with regulatory requirements. Team members can raise their concerns without fear of victimisation, discrimination, or disadvantage to the personnel listed in Section 3.

Only serious and genuine concerns should be reported under the Whistleblowing procedures and should be made in good faith and not for personal gain. Malicious and false allegations will be viewed seriously and treated as a gross misconduct and, if proven, may lead to disciplinary action including dismissal.

The Company will handle the report with care and will treat the whistle-blowers' concerns fairly and properly.

In addition, they are assured of protection against unfair dismissal, victimisation or unwarranted disciplinary action, even if the concerns raised turned out to be unsubstantiated. BWEK reserves the right to take appropriate action against anyone who initiates or threatens to initiate retaliation against those who have raised concerns under this policy. Anyone who initiates or threatens retaliation will be subject to disciplinary actions which may include dismissal. The management will support all seafarers and team members and encourage them to raise concerns without fear of reprisal.

6. CONFIDENTIALITY

All concerns and Whistle-blowers will be treated with great care and in the strictest confidence although, in some cases, the Company may be legally required to disclose the information.
